

XL-1 ADVANCED COMM 2.5

CHANGEABLE

MIL-PRF-32432A   ANSI Z.87   EN166F

With the XL-1 ADVANCED COMM versatility and function is key. Sold either with a two- or three-lens kit, making it is easy to swap out the lenses and match the different lighting conditions. The eyewear’s rubberized nose pads give a secure fit, which can be even more close and secure with the enclosed Elastic Strap with Rubber Tips. It additionally comes with a removable gasket (Facial Cavity™ Seal) that blocks irritants and peripheral light. Equipped with the ultra-thin COMM temples, designed for a comfortable fit, when wearing earmuffs and other ear mounted communication devices, the XL-1 ADVANCED COMM is overall, truly, a model with many features and functions.

COMM TEMPLES

COMM temples are thin enough to fit under shooting earmuffs, and other ear mounted communication devices providing a comfortable fit.

Besides providing a high level of comfort, when being used together with shooting and communication earmuffs, the COMM temples also minimize the risk of decreasing the effect of the hearing protection. In this way, the user is provided with the optimal solution, when combining eye and on-ear protection.

The high flexibility of the materials, provided through the thin and ergonomic design of the COMM temples, allow the temples to firmly adapt to the shape of the user's head, creating a harmonious solution between the eyes and the on-ear protection.
